Who can take classes in the SSC? Students who want to improve their basic skills in reading, spelling, vocabulary, and/or writing. Many students in transfer or professional/technical courses take SSC classes to meet program prerequisite requirements. All students wanting to take SSC reading or writing classes must first take the ASSET Test. For ASSET Test information and/or appointments, please contact The Testing Center (574-7105) or Student Services (574-7103). Note: Some additional assessment in the SSC during orientation is required for accurate placement.) It is highly recommended that students take no more than 6 SSC credits per term. Students are encouraged not to take mathematics courses simultaneously with SSC classes.

OCCC provides free tutorial services for students making the transition from developmental mathematics and English courses to courses required for degree and certificate programs.

Students in other credit courses desiring tutoring may be referred to volunteer tutors from the local community. By coordinating with the Central Coast Literary Association, tutors are available for ESL, ABE, or GED students in reading, writing, or mathematics. To request a tutor, fill out a Tutor Request Form and submit it at the Student Services counter in the Central County Center or mail the completed form to: Tutor Coordinator, Oregon Coast Community College, 400 SE College Way, Newport, OR 97366 or contact the Tutor Coordinator at the Central County Center.

The Office of Disability Services (ODS) at Linn-Benton Community College plans accommodations for LBCC classes, activities, and events for students and college guests. ODS staff members offer information, planning and success coaching. A variety of services are customized, based on disability documentation provided by the student. LBCC does not test or diagnose disabilities. If you have a disability and feel that you will need accommodations as a student at Linn-Benton Community College, ODS is here to support you
